FRANK J. QUATELA is the owner and Principal Architect of Frank J. Quatela Architect, P.C. an award winning, architectural firm offering multi-disciplinary services, ranging from the designs of single-family homes to mixed-use high rise buildings.

After graduating from New York Institute of Technology in 1996 with a Bachelor's in Architecture, Frank immersed himself in gaining as much firsthand experience in this profession. His passion and perseverance for architecture drove him to take the next step in his professional career.

In 2009, Frank J Quatela Architect, P.C. was established. One of the guiding principles behind his firm is the idea that every architect should contribute to the profession by responding to the needs of the community in which they practice. Frank's contribution can be seen through his participation in local school events, sponsoring national and international students for internships at his firm, volunteering his services to non-profit organizations, and his involvement in the AIA. Frank Quatela is a Registered Architect in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Florida, Texas and Connecticut. He is also a member of National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB), member of Community Board 7 in Queens, STEM committee member at local schools, and immediate past President of the American Institute of Architects Queens Chapter.
